

Probability that differences can be detected between two participants' scores

Proportion of observed range covered by individual participants' 95% CIs